Unfinished Business:

New time claim and discipline agreements are now in place. You have 30 days to file claims instead of 60. All denied claims go directly to the union now, no need to file on our website anymore. You can still track the progress of your claims the same way.

Keep turning in 10,000+ ft trains. Let Dwight know about conventional 10,000+ ft trains

Still waiting for the peer trainer positions to be bulletined correctly

Floating vacations have no impact on vacation slots for members

New Business:

Welcome Jeff Nourse as 2nd vice local chairman and thanks to Mike Brown for his work

OPCC says you need a ticket# when you use additional units to avoid stalling. Stop and isolate those extra units as soon as you are passed the potential stall point

Dwight has a meeting with service unit Thursday for safety issues

When claiming an out after 8 or 2nd departure, show 0800 on the claim. When showing zone rule violation, claim actual time outside the zone

For critical incidents, you're not going to get 3 days off unless there's a loss of life or serious injury

PS day agreement does state you may have to provide documentation if the carrier requests it

If you choose to have PS days as vacation days, they come out of the end of the week of your latest week of single day vacation

We will not be asking/negotiating for the new contract until our current/last contract is honored
